FOREWORD

SOUTHSIDE HIGH SCHOOL is to us now a reality; its spirit, our inspiration. It is our desire to preserve the reality of today as a sacred memory. Therefore, the class of 1932 sincerely hopes that this book will help to keep fresh those sacred memories of experiences at our Alma Mater. May the true spirit of Southside, which we hope we have shown throughout this book, help and guide us all in time to come as it has helped and guided us before.

—Robert Chandler

DEDICATION

TO MR. EDSON, to whom we owe much for his kindly advice and aid in whatever was undertaken, we, the class of 1932, dedicate this, our year book. We sincerely hope that in years to come we may uphold the honor of Southside High in the way he would desire.

MEMORIES OF 1935

I'll never forget 'till the day I die
My first day at school in the Southside High.
My first report card was not to blame
That the highest mark was the one over my name.

My first assembly I hardly recall
But it was held sometime early that fall.
My first composition for the El-So-Hi
Was never presented so we'll pass that by.

Strange experiences have I none
Except being caught with chewing gum,
And the honor roll—that lovely peach
Has always been just out of my reach.

Embarrassing moments I've had a plenty
Maybe fifteen, sixteen, or even twenty.
Weeds in my garden they may grow
But I grow tall flowers so they won't show.

DOROTHY PERRY, '35

MY GARDEN OF MEMORIES

Deep in my heart I have a garden green,
Where bright hued flowers stand serene.
They are the blossoms I tend with care;
I want them to flourish, grow lovelier there.
Loved by the wild things, by the birds and bees,
All in my garden of memories.

The blossoms of gold, and of rose, and blue
Are deeds I have done that are good and true.
I'm proud of these, ashamed of the weeds,
For they are my weak and thoughtless deeds.
And my well-loved friends are the birds and bees
All in my garden of memories.

THEY REAP AND WE PLANT

We, the Freshmen, are planting our seeds which will grow into flowers or weeds of our garden of memory. We have the prospect of reaping our harvest where they have already reaped. We have good times which lie ahead.
Many are the positions that we must fill. Our flowers will bloom where those of the seniors blossom now. They have a full garden to take away. We have ours to fill.

JACK D. HAYS, '35

SEEDS ON FERTILE SOIL

Southside is a garden in which all things we plant will grow to beautiful memories. Our first days at Southside, our first assemblies and report cards will linger in our minds and form material for reminiscences in years to come.

When we have failed to do our duty and go to class unprepared, thunderous questions come tumbling at us and we receive them with astonishment and wonder. Although startling and embarrassing at the moment, they will seem amusing and enjoyable to think of after school years are over.

The school is the fertile soil for our garden.
The lessons are the seeds, that blossom forth as habits, either good or bad, depending on the care they receive. Good habits are the flowers that bloom and flourish while the bad habits are the flowers that wither and die or the weeds that spoil the beauty of our garden.

Our books are the tools we use to cultivate our garden, and our homework and tests are the hard work that bring forth promising results.
If we are slackers and do not perform our duties as we should, our flowers will die from lack of care and our gardens will be failures.

Memories to be glad in,
Not to be sad in;
Memories to live in,
To gain and give in;
Memories for trying
And not for sighing.

Memories for striving
And hearty thriving;
Memories bright,
Oh, hold them tight;
For God who sendeth,
He only lendeth.

THEIR FIRST REPORT CARDS

"Freshmen, Freshmen, quite contrary
How does your schoolwork go?"
"With A's and E's and B's and C's
All standing there in a row."

EMILY MORRIS, '35

MEMORIES OF 1935

"MY ALPHABET OF MEMORIES"

A—is for assemblies, we all do our bit;
 B—is for blame, the frosh are hard hit.
 C—is for cafeteria, only beans, and ice cream;
 D—is for dreams, they're not what them seem.
 E—is for El-So-Hi, our esteemed school paper,
 F—is for fame, we hope for this, later.
 G—is for gum, a disgusting habit,
 H—is for the honor roll, may we all make it!
 I—is for initiations, we all have to submit;
 J—is for jokes, which don't always fit.
 K—is for Knapp, our council president,
 L—is for lessons, these we lament—
 M—is for marks, mostly C's, D's, and E's;
 N—is for nonsense, if you please!
 O—is for operetta, will we forget?
 P—is for parties, we oft-times regret.
 Q—is for questions, that ought to be solved;
 R—is for regents, in which all are involved.
 S—is for shouting, you make yourself hoarse;
 T—is for teachers, of learning a source.
 U—is for umpire, in our basketball game;
 V—is for the victory, we wish to gain.
 W—is for wedding, of a classmate so dear;
 X—is for X-mas baskets, we send to give cheer.
 Y—is for yearbooks, yells, and youth,
 Z—is for zealous, which we are,—forsooth.

VERA GRISWOLD, '35

Weeds in his garden? He has none.
 He does his assignments one by one.
 His seeds are planted all with care,
 In hopes of growing flowers there.
 He tends to them with patience bright,
 And all his work is always right.
 Weeds in a garden are out of place;
 They spoil the beauty and mar its grace.
 So a little work and a little toil,
 Will keep them out of the fertile soil.

BERTRAM RUNDELL, '35

OUR GARDEN OF MEMORIES

Who will ever forget the class of '32? No-body. Why not? Because they are real Southside students with Southside spirit. Who will ever forget Louis Knapp, a fellow for green plants (the Freshmen) to look up to. These flowers will ever flourish. Soon they will be picked from our garden, but they will live forever in our memories.

GEORGE EVANGELIS, '35

MY FIRST TRIP TO SOUTHSIDE

Confidence, that was me. It was written all over me until I came in sight of the building. Vague apprehensions took hold of me. My footsteps became slower and slower. I stopped. I considered a bit whether I should run blindly away or stick it out. Anyway what is there to be afraid of, I thought. Will I meet somebody I know? If I do, I'll ask him what I should do. Confidence came over me with a rush. I began to whistle. I confess it was only half-heartedly. There it was again. Suppose I shouldn't meet anybody I knew. Oh! that heavenly desire to bolt and keep on going 'till I fell exhausted. "Nonsense," I thought, "you aren't a grammar school pupil. Keep going." I went.

WILLIAM MARINAN, '35

WEEDS IN MY GARDEN

Although I am only a freshman, I have a great many weeds in my small garden. These weeds consist of unlearned poems, unfinished assignments, D's, E's, and undesirable actions.

I know no way to pick them but to study and work hard. These are the killers of weeds and if you can poison weeds you can have a very desirable and beautiful garden in which to live.

It is always much nicer to go to parties and other things; but as you neglect your garden your weeds will grow to be even more numerous.

If they become too numerous your garden will die and will have to be replanted in order to grow.

MAURICE GRISWOLD, '35

As a freshman I can see
 How funny little seeds can be.

In the seventh grade they start
 Trying hard to do their part.

In the eighth year then they sprout
 Bringing weeds without a doubt.

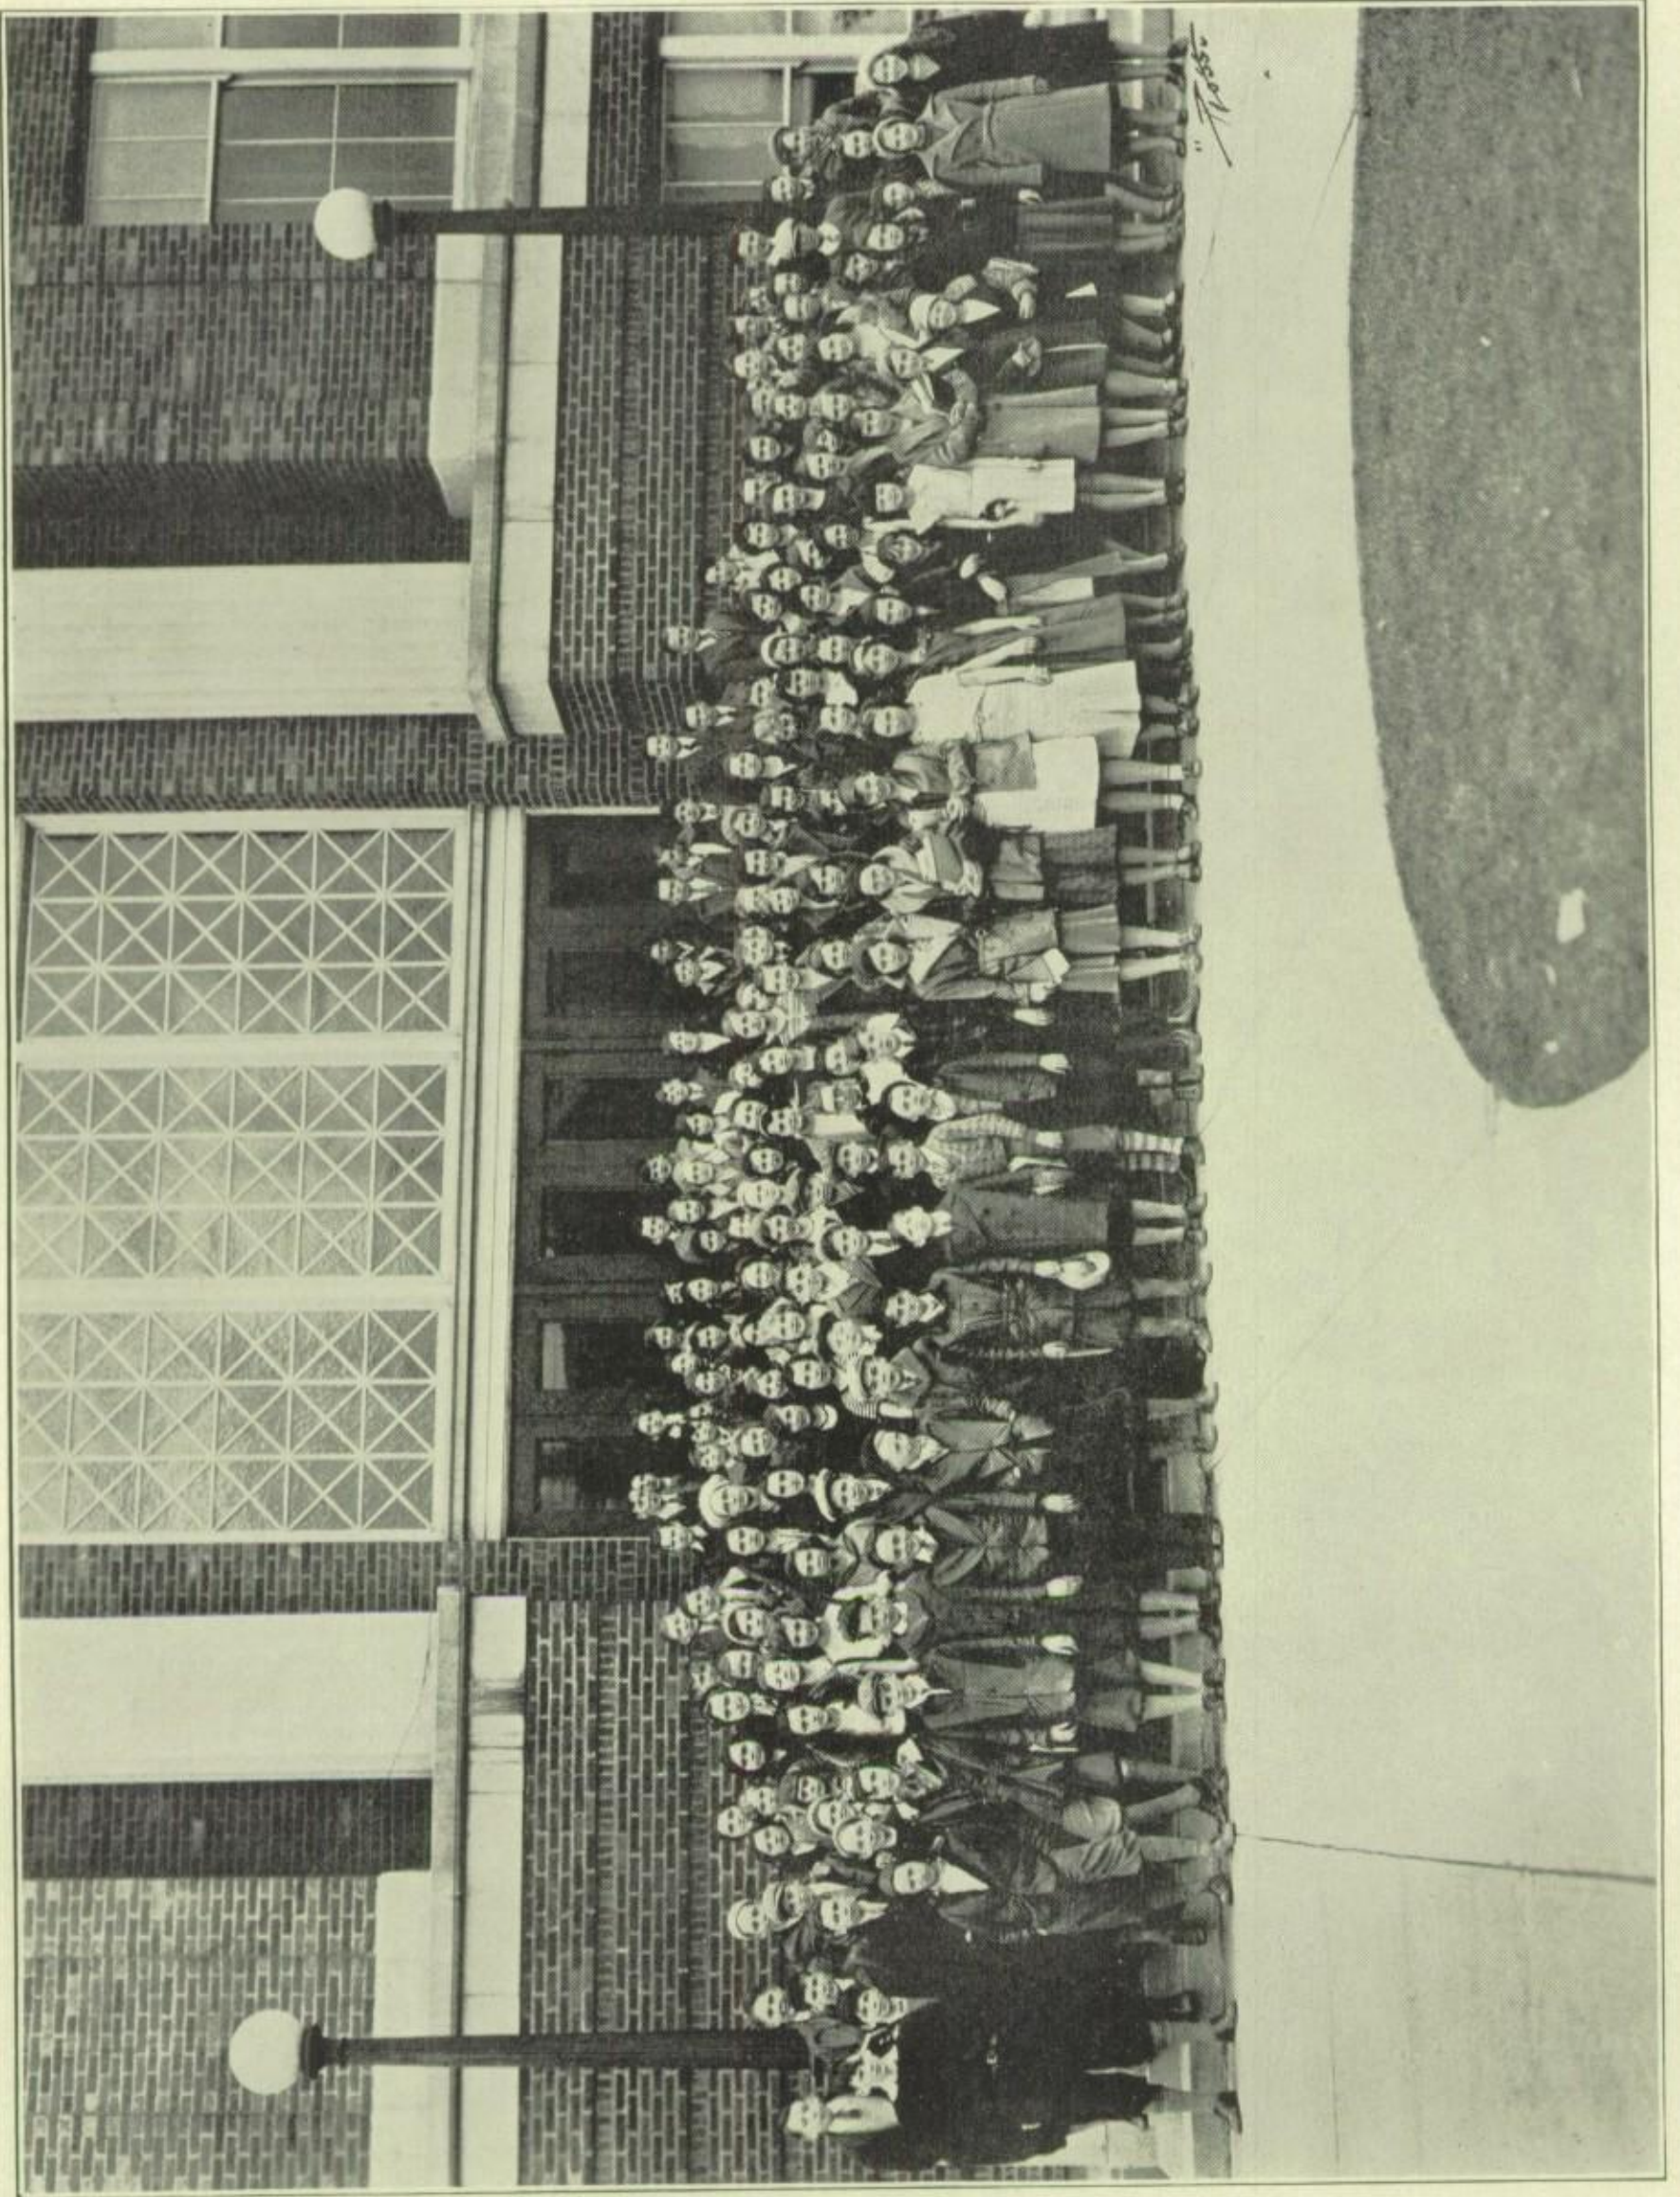

Little Freshies, aren't they proud?
 "Little green sprouts," seniors vowed.

I have three years yet to go
 Until I bear more seeds to sow.

Then I'll look back o'er those years
 Until my eyes grow dim with tears.

MEMORIES OF 1936

A DOG-GONE MEMORY

The teacher says she's very brave,
(At least pretends to be).
One day she met a dog called Dave,
(As harmless as a flea).

"Oh take that horrid thing away!"
Came from behind the chair.
The little dog who'd been so gay
Slunk out, with injured air.

A BITTER MEMORY

A cooking class on baking
A doctor on the 'phone,
A tummy which is aching
And a figure lying prone
These are the memories of years gone by
At dear old Southside High.

MEMORIES OF EIGHTH GRADE LATIN CLASS

In the heart of a little chamber
In my memory chest, I hold
A thought which in Life's trying hours
I hasten to unfold.
How well I do recall it,
That door, when 'ere I pass—
'Twas there for many a happy hour
I sat in my Latin Class.

Through many a lesson I wondered
Just what 'twas all about,
What good were these meaningless words to me
They were useless, beyond a doubt.

But now my feelings are different
And when by that door I pass
I think of the valuable treasures
I hold from my Latin Class.

WILLIAM TANNER, '36

A GARDEN OF MEMORIES

A Garden of Memories recalls to me many things, but one thing that impressed me most was the Christmas Assembly. The seventh and eighth grade students participated in the affair. It was a very beautiful and picturesque scene. Will you ever forget the angels singing, the animals talking, and the fatigued shepherds lying around? When the stable door was opened and the Christ Child and its mother appeared, it seemed to me as if I were with them in Bethlehem. As Christmas is a beautiful celebration of the year, the assembly is one of the most treasured blossoms in my garden of memories.

ANTNETT FOSSACECA, '36

A FLOWER IN MY GARDEN OF MEMORIES

At the end of the eighth grade at Southside I can look back over the good times we had and be glad that I was ever a pupil there.

Many humorous things happened. I will never forget the laughs I had at others' expense while we were reading "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow." How I laughed over the queer pronunciation of words!

You will remember the quilting party at Herr Van Tassel's home. While describing the departure of the guests, one brilliant student related, "Some of the damsels mounted on pinions (pillions) behind their favorite swine (swain)."

Ichabod Crane certainly must have had a capacious swallow if he could swallow well-buttoned (buttered) griddle cakes. I wonder if he swallowed them buttons and all?

I never really have believed in evolution but animals as well as humans must have changed considering the time Ichabod's horse sat on its hunches (haunches).

I hope the next class can pronounce better than we did.

MYRTLE HARRINGTON, '36

MEMORIES OF 1936

PIES—AND?

In cooking class some girls did try
To make a nice, big cherry pie,
But when the crust began to burn,
To flee from there they sure did yearn.

Well just another crust that's wasted.
I wonder how it would have tasted
If it hadn't burnt so bad,
And shrivelled so it looked quite sad!

My, Miss Lee was in a rage,
And 'round there how she did rampage!
She said we weren't to be trusted
Which made us simply all "regusted."

RUTH YEAGER, '36

A MEMORY OF EIGHTH YEAR

*Now listen my children and you shall hear
Of a memory of that good eighth year.*

Can you still hear the sound of ringing voices in the large assembly hall, when we first sang our Alma Mater, written by an eighth grade boy? Oh, yes, I can remember that day above all the rest. It was a glorious day, when we went into the assembly hall, because we were all looking so proudly up at our new hero. Just to think he was an 8B student and also a member of Home Room 108. We waited and watched and finally the time came when we were to sing that new and triumphant song. On each line we could almost see the name of William Tanner, William Tanner, this song was written by William Tanner. Now, at last the assembly was over, and we were all marching out. The song was sung, hurrah! hurrah! We shall never forget him, the boy who wrote our Junior Alma Mater.

*In that good old year of 1931
We'll never forget what was done.*

VIRGINIA FRYMIRE, '36

I REMEMBER—

Little Miss Weston
Kept on a pesterin'
While teacher was doing her stuff,
So into the corner
Was banished the scorner
And Caroline thought it was tough.

EARL SALTUS, '36

VISITORS IN 01

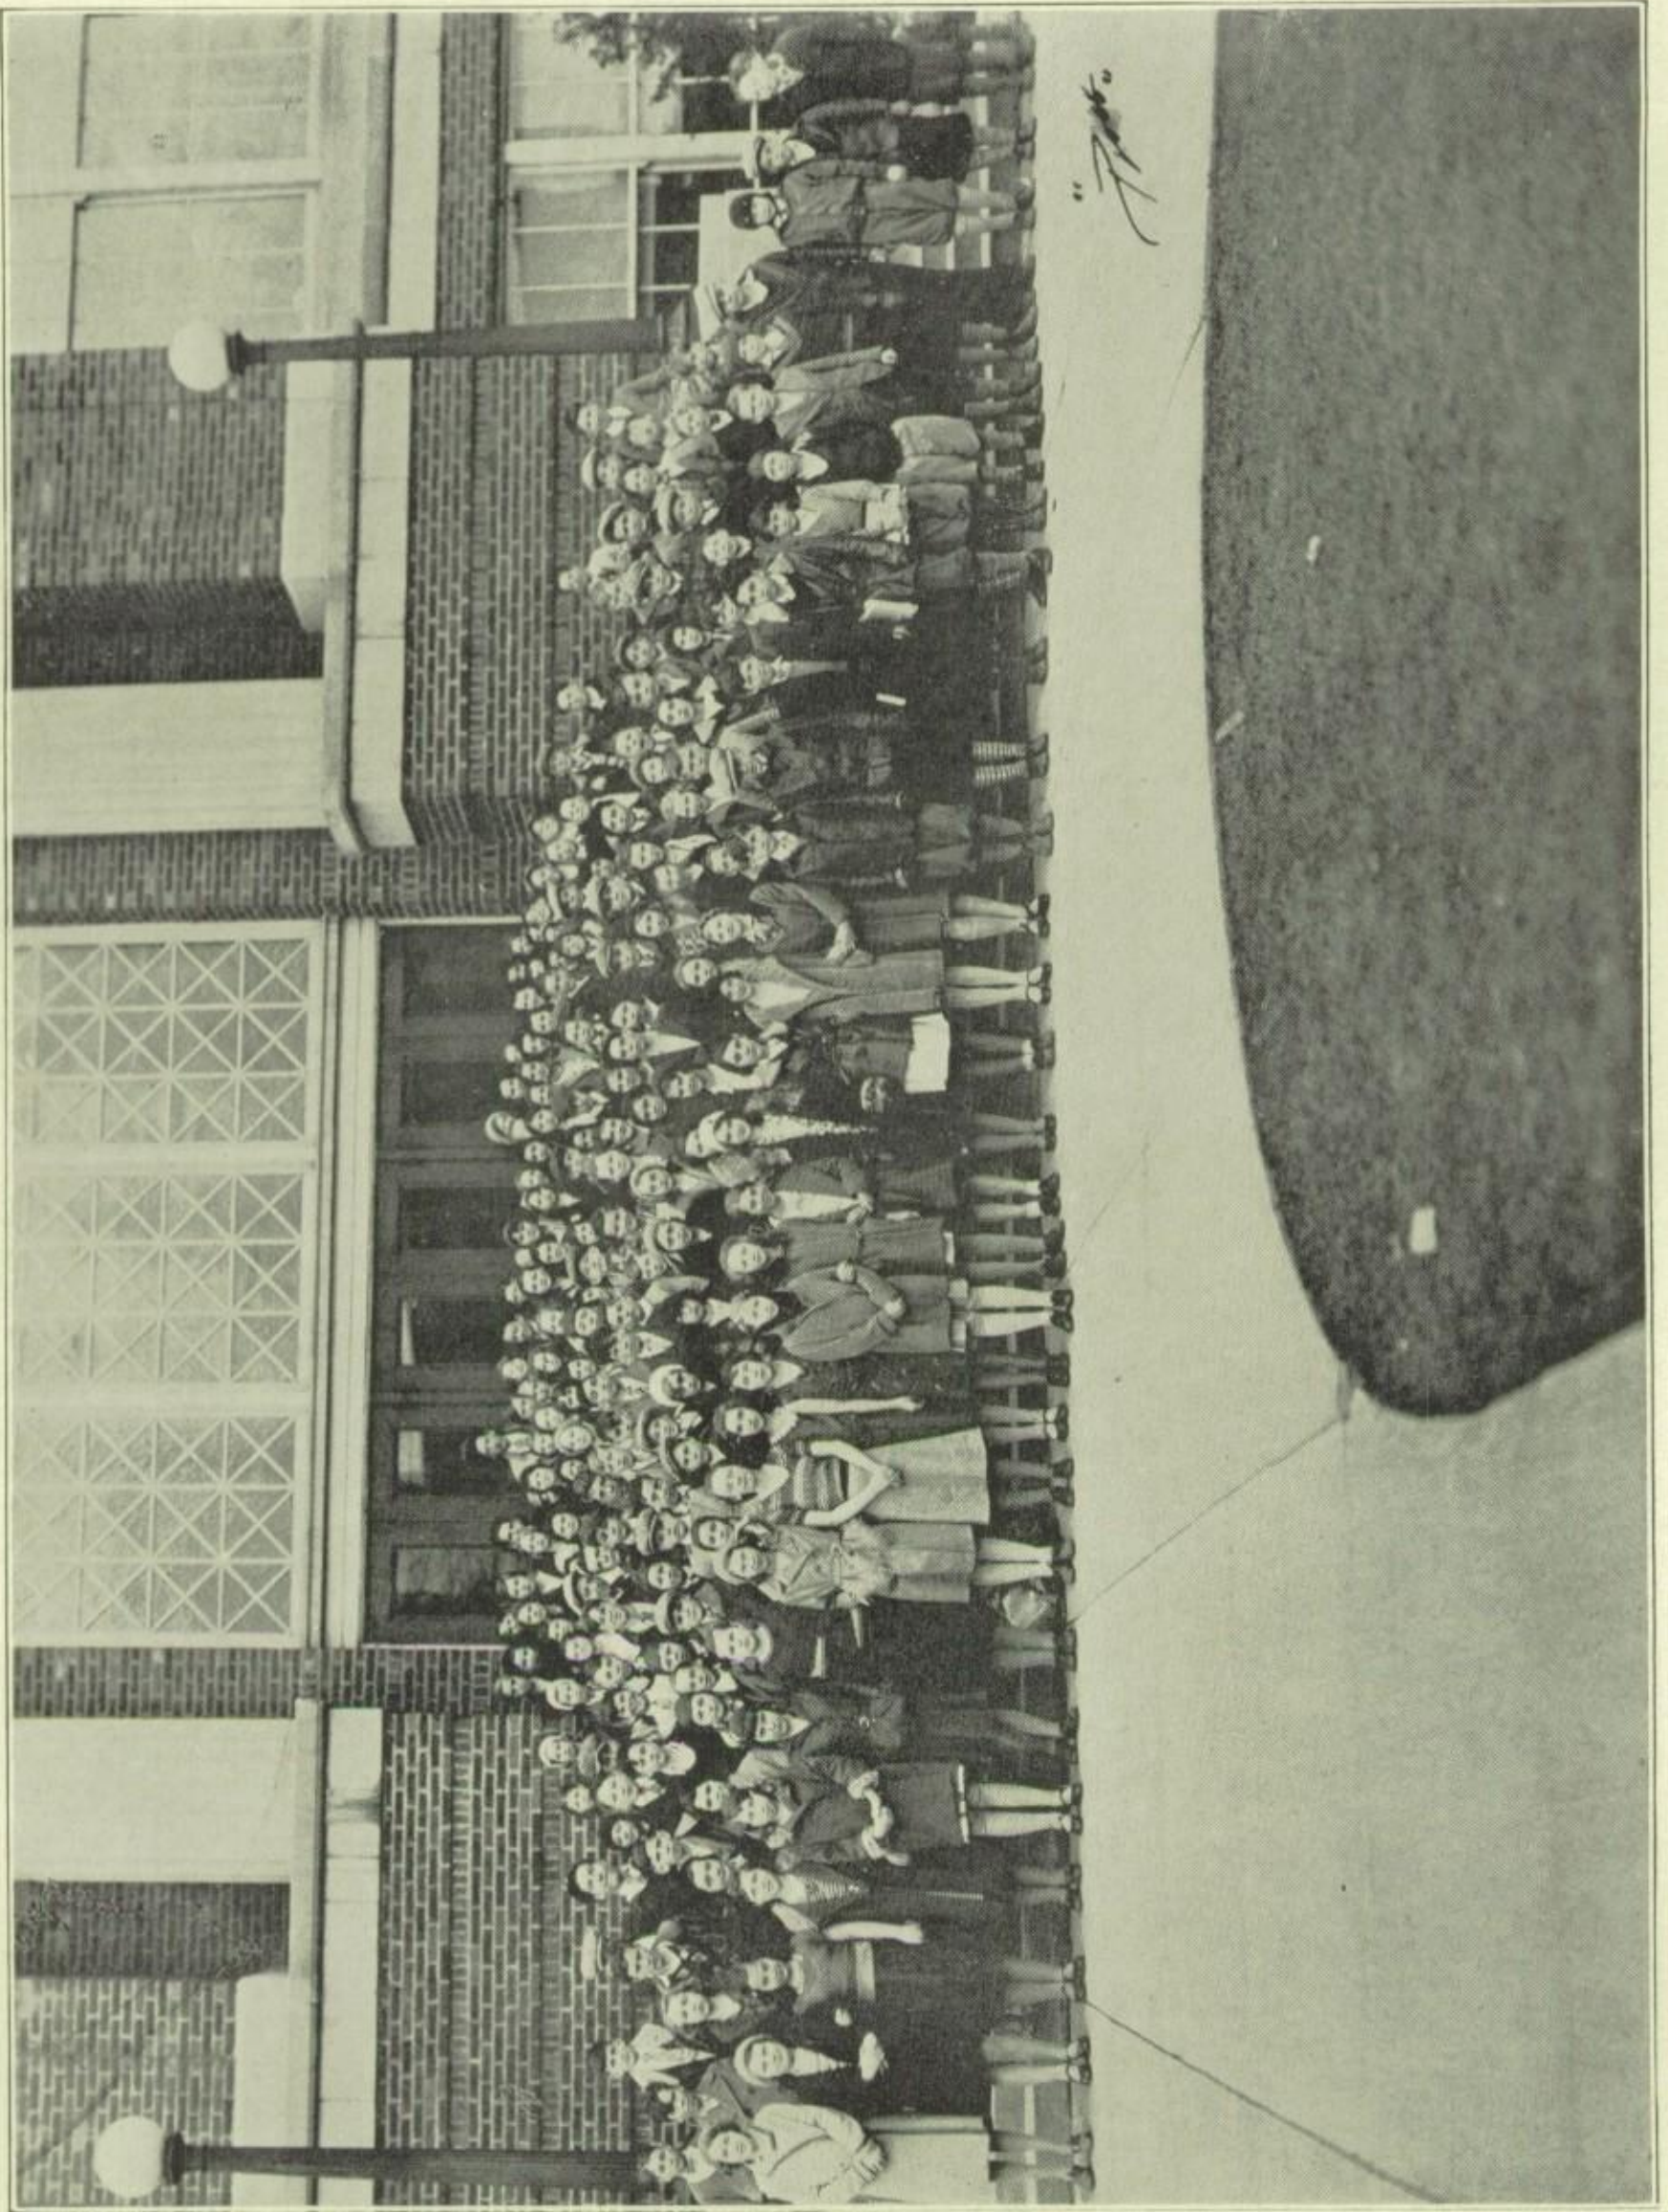

One day during our 7B year, we had visitors in spelling class. We were in 01, studying very hard, when we heard a mischievous giggle from outside the open window. Looking up, we saw two small girls and a small boy. When she saw our attention was upon her, one of the girls immediately proceeded to turn somersaults over the rails, by the outside gym door. This greatly amused the class and several suppressed snickers came to the ears of Miss Skeahan. We were, of course, told immediately to pay attention to our spelling lesson. In the meantime, the children who had advanced closer to the window and were now leaning over the sill, began to discuss the merits of the class and classroom in a very entertaining manner, such as: "See that boy over there, I know him." And—

"I wish we could chase them out and use this place for a play house."

Of course, very little attention was paid to spelling. Miss Skeahan realized this and attempted to send the children away. They did not wish to go, but after telling them that they would have to come inside or leave, our strange visitors decided to do the latter and they left rather reluctantly.

FIRST IMPRESSIONS 1937

MY FIRST IMPRESSIONS OF S. H. S.

When the teacher in the sixth grade said I was promoted I did not say anything while the other girls were full of joy. When I reached home I began to think, "I will have to get new clothes, and they will think they are better than I," and many more unpleasant things.

When it was time to go to S. H. S. in January, there was a lump in my throat. When I reached the school I found it altogether different, for they didn't think they were any better than anyone else and I am doing better since I got over my silly imaginations.

MEETING NEW FRIENDS

If by chance I had not been standing in front of my home room door one September morning, I could not now have such happy thoughts of my first term in seventh grade.

Of course I knew several people in seventh grade but I most naturally wanted to know more—for instance, that pretty girl opening her locker half way down the corridor. It would have been awkward to go up to her and say, "Let's get acquainted." I wouldn't know what to say next, and by that time the buzzer would buzz. So standing there thoroughly occupied in my imagination, I was suddenly interrupted.

"Seen the cafeteria?" No, I hadn't. So the next step was to it. What a sunny, pleasant place, just like a restaurant!

The next day noon I ate my lunch there. And what a lot of girls! They are now my closest friends. Two weeks from that day as I walked into my home room I thought, "This is a regular luxury. It is a pleasure to go to school."

MARY JANE BIDWELL, '37

MEETING NEW FRIENDS

When I started down to High School,
I almost danced with glee.
I met many kind and true friends
Who are very near to me;
I love them all so dearly,
And I think they all love me.
And if we work together,
A success we're sure to be.
The teachers also are our friends,
Giving us good advice;
They treat us all with great respect,
Though sometimes we're not nice.
If when I leave dear Southside
A success I fail to be,
I cannot blame my teachers,
Because they did their best for me.

THELMA WEISKOP, '37

MY FIRST IMPRESSION OF S. H. S.

My first impression of Southside High was like that of a small player on a large and very crowded football field. After an hour of shoving and being shoved, I reached the bulletin board and found my home room was 106. I received a strange piece of paper that other students called a program. To me it was a fifty-fifty split between a chess board and a first lesson in the age honored language of the Greeks.

The ever sounding buzzer was to me a signal to get lost and spend an extra five minutes in searching my program puzzle and the spacious corridors. But as the days wore on, I began to get accustomed to those ever ringing buzzers and came to the conclusion that Southside was a great school.

DONALD LAWES, '37

FIRST IMPRESSIONS 1937

MY UNLUCKY DAY

There has been only one day that I consider very unlucky, and boy!! was that unlucky!! The first thing that happened was when a group of boys, including myself, broke a school window. While playing catch, one of us—not saying who—threw the ball through the gym window. We started to run, but I remembered that there were many boys who had witnessed the scene, so we went to the office. Miss Hoffman told us to see Mr. Edson during fifth period, which we did. That same day, in electric shop, which was fifth period, I lost my friend's knife. All this happened on Lincoln's birthday—and now I wish that it had been a holiday.

JOHN BARBER, '37

MY UNLUCKY DAY

My goodness, what an unlucky day! I was so disappointed when I received my report card. I started to see how many hours I had toward the honor roll. Let me see? English, five; Oral English, two; Math, five; Sewing, two; and History, three. Oh, dear! only seventeen! I needed a dish pan at that moment to catch the tears that will never be forgotten. I was afraid to go home and tell mother. I was ashamed of myself, and Oh! such terrible things passed through my mind. I hope I shall never in all my days have such an experience again.

BETTY REYNOLDS, '37

MY UNLUCKY DAY

Once when I was whispering
I got a good blistering:
It hurt so bad,
I told my dad,
And I went to bed
Without being fed.

OLA STEINER, '37

MY FIRST IMPRESSION OF S. H. S.

My first impression was that it was a mean old place with a lot of high hatted Seniors, but afterwards I thought they were the whole school. At first it seemed as if I was just about as big as a pin in a great big box. I could hardly wait the first day over here to change classes to find out what it feels like to be changing classes all the time.

I didn't like it at first at all because nobody paid any attention to me but the traffic cops. Well, you can't expect to be the center of attraction in a school of 1800. But now I just love it at Southside.

ALICE RICHARDS, '37

MY FIRST IMPRESSIONS OF S. H. S.

When I first came to Southside and saw those large corridors and all the rooms, I thought, "Oh my! will I ever learn which way to go and to what rooms to go?" I was so afraid that I would get mixed up and get into the wrong rooms. When I went by the different shops it looked like some factory.

I said to myself, "Think of all the fun I'll have running those machines and making different things when I get into those shops."

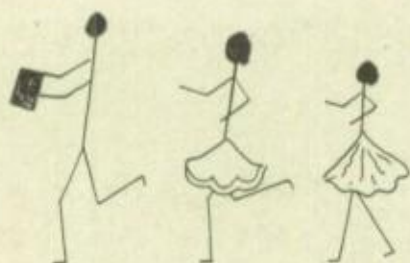

It seemed as though the days went twice as fast changing rooms every hour. I liked it very much after I got acquainted.

WELL KNOWN FACTS ABOUT LITERATURE

It wouldn't be difficult to imagine Dorothy Hood taking Phoebe Pyncheon's place in the "House of Seven Gables," would it?

"Yon Cassius has a lean and hungry look;
He thinks too much: such men are dangerous."

Is that why we watch John Farr so much?

Edmund Burke cannot surpass Bill Trader when it comes to oratorical ability.

Orpheus may have "drawn iron tears down Pluto's cheek," but Gladys Morrison can make the piano talk.

Shakespeare asks the amorous question:

"Tell me where is Fancy bred,
In the heart or in the head?"

Southside's corridor sheiks seem rather wise on the subject.

King Arthur may have had his Knights of the Round Table, but S. H. S. has its Knights of the Traffic Squad.

In the same Idyll, who is Sir Galahad around here? John Besley rides a horse, doesn't he?

"For always I am Caesar"—or maybe it's Cicconi.

If Teresa Record hasn't the stateliness of Portia and the fair tresses of Ophelia, then we can't imagine of whom Shakespeare was thinking.

Just as Brutus made history by stabbing Caesar, so did the Class of 1932 make money by Hanging the Goose.

Who reminds us of the patient, silent, suffering Griselda of "Canterbury Tales" fame? It surely cannot be Dot Smith?

"My business was song, song, song;
I chirped, cheeped, trilled and twittered."

Page Jimmy O'Connor at the Wednesday night dances.

"From the neighboring school
Come the boys,
With more than their wonted noise
And commotion."

Maybe Longfellow foresaw the parade from P. C. to Southside.

Mr. Edson spoke!

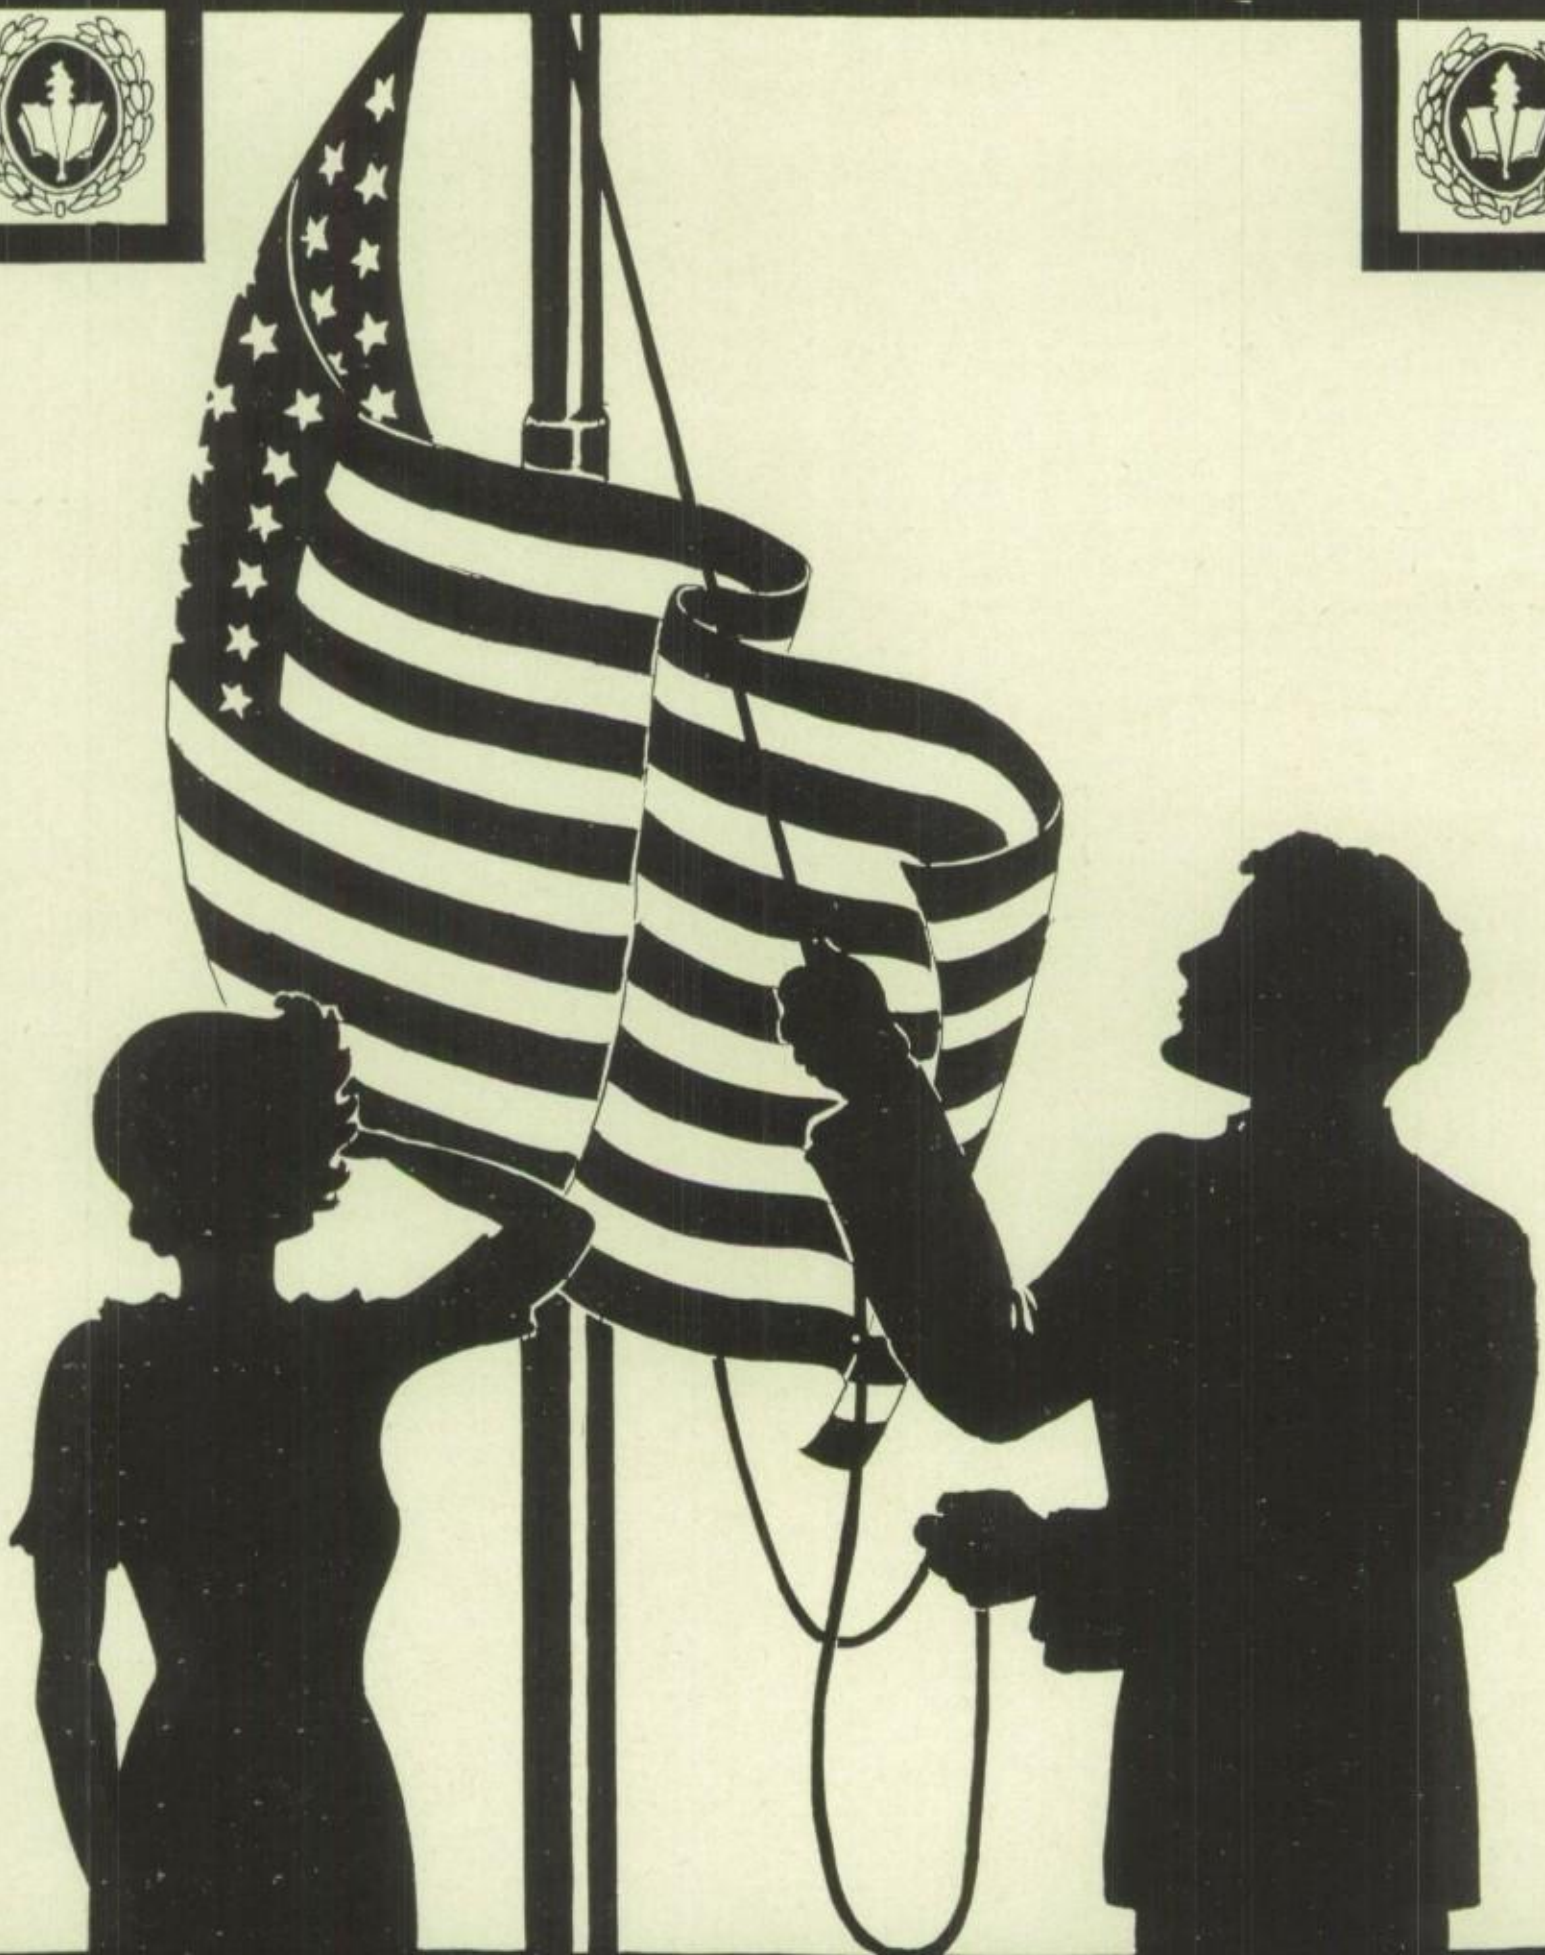

"The wood-birds ceased from singing,
And the squirrel ceased his chatter in the oak-tree."

A scene in assembly:

"I know a maiden fair to see,
Take care!
She can both false and friendly be,
Beware! Beware!"

Did someone say this to Walt Good?

THE SENIOR PLAY

"The Goose Hangs High," a comedy depicting the trials of an average family, was presented as the Senior play December 4 and 5, with Miss Florence Callahan as coach.

The leading parts were taken by Harry Sagar, Lois Johnson, Arlene Collum and William D. Trader. John Besley and Dorothy Whipple also carried major roles.

High spots of the play were Hugh and Dagmar's love scenes, the twin's discussion with granny concerning her death, Lois' modern ideas, Leo Day's "climbing," Kimberly's verbal duel with Bernard Ingalls and the big quarrel scene.

Others who ably completed the cast were Betty Rubin, Elizabeth Wilson, Alma Bergh, Donald Dunbar, Lowell Moss, Max Hamilton, Lewis Thrasher and James O'Connor.

The settings were the work of Mr. Lantz's shop; lighting was arranged by the electric shop under Mr. Parsons' supervision; Mr. McNaught presided at the curtain ropes. William Andrus acted as general chairman.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Every Monday at 4:00 in 113, the Student Council, our law-making body, convenes to transact the school's business. It is composed of forty representatives, one from each home room. These take the students' ideas to meetings and bring back reports. This body is ably guided by Mrs. Ralph S. Austin and Mr. Frank M. Edson.

LIBRARY STAFF

The Library Staff originated in the need for girls to aid the students of Southside in the library. The purpose of the Staff is to become better acquainted with library work in order to be of greater service to the school, also to make our library routine efficient.

A regular meeting is held every Thursday afternoon in the library and a social gathering about once a month.

HONOR SOCIETY

Members of this worthy organization, approximately one-fourth of the class, are chosen first by the teachers on the basis of scholastic standing, initiative, cooperation and participation. They are then voted upon by the student body—such a procedure taking place each term.

It is the duty of those finally decided upon to uphold high scholastic standards. The students attaining this coveted honor are:

HI-Y

"We, the members of the Southside Hi-Y Club, pledge ourselves to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and all communities higher standards of Christian character."

Besides making speeches in the Junior home rooms, the ideals committee, lead by Chairman Floyd Sweet, instituted the honor system in a few midyear examinations and in one study hall.

Under the guidance of President Charles Schott, several interesting parties were held.

Meetings are held every Tuesday evening at 6:30 at the Y. M. C. A.

Adviser.....Miss Elizabeth Grube

Purpose—To become acquainted with the business men of our city and to unite, develop, and strengthen commercial students in business methods and conditions.

Prominent business men of our city are secured to speak at our club meetings. In this way we are able to bring about a closer relationship with them. The club has established a custom of sending a representative to New York City on an educational trip. This year two representatives will make the trip.

SCIENCE CLUB

To cultivate a knowledge and interest in science among members and to promote good fellowship, is the aim of the Science Club.

This organization, under the guidance of Mr. John Barlow, has enjoyed hikes and parties. It also sponsored an entertainment by Robert G. Thrasher, an internationally known magician. This year's special project has been photography.

Its meetings are held every Monday evening in room 217, where Dorothy Whipple as president presides, assisted by Rhea Edgcomb, vice-president; Marion Robb, secretary, and William Trader, treasurer.

USHERS' CLUB

The Ushers' Club under the able guidance of its adviser, Mrs. S. Carolyn Austin, elected the following officers for the past year: president, Sarah Condon; vice-president, Eleanor Whiteman; treasurer, Gladys Percy; Student Council representative, Betty Shortsleeve; assistant student representative, Fanny Rubin; secretary, Betty Wilson; assistant secretary, Mary Jane Suter.

Because its aim is service for the school, the club has ushered at all the social events and has had duty at the hostess table, the health room, and the Parley Coburn telephone.

The meetings are held the first and third Friday of each month in room 209.

MT. VERNON OPERETTA

The Music Department of Southside High School, under the supervision of Miss Jean Christian, Miss Irene St. John, and Mr. George Abbott, produced an operetta, "Mount Vernon," on April 29 and 30. They were ably assisted by the Girls' and Boys' Glee Club, also the High School Orchestra.

This operetta, in three lyric scenes, pictured Washington, the man, at three significant moments of his life at Mount Vernon. The first scene took place on the eve of his departure for the First Continental Congress at Philadelphia, in 1774; the second, on his return home at the end of the War for Independence, in 1784; the third, during the last year of his life, in 1799. The three scenes aim only to show the father of his country in his intimate surroundings.

Among the most beautiful parts presented were the birthday party of Nellie Custis, a soliloquy of Washington in his old age, and the wedding of Nellie Custis. The concluding scene ended with a choral glorification of George Washington with special reference to the bi-centennial celebration of his birth.

The leading characters were as follows: George Washington—Harry Sagar; Martha Washington—Louise Hancock; Eleanor Calvert—Florence Lundgren; Jack Custis—Edward Kunzman, and Nellie Custis—(as a child), Marjorie Sheive, and (as a woman)—Vivian Daggett. Other members of the cast were:

SIGMA DELTA SIGMA

(THE SENIOR DRAMATIC SOCIETY)

There have been several previous organizations in Southside High School for dramatic work, among them the Foot-Lite Club and the Dramatic Club. Last year, 1931, again saw the organization of such a society—Sigma Delta Sigma—under what seemed the best of conditions.

Living up to their purpose to cultivate an appreciation of drama throughout the school, they have sponsored many dramatic projects under the direction of their capable coach and adviser, Miss St. John. Probably the most outstanding of this year's contributions was the historical play commemorating the bi-centennial of the birth of George Washington. This effort was enthusiastically received by the student body in the Senior English assembly and in a second performance before the Southside Parent-Teacher Association.

Not only has this society sponsored many dramatic events, but also numerous social activities. Probably the one best remembered by Sigma Delts is the Second Annual Banquet held March 31. On this occasion an initiation was held and many new members were accepted.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

The Girls' Glee Club is an organization to promote interest in choral work for girls.

Besides going Christmas caroling, the group also enjoyed a party for new members during the first semester. Parts were taken by the club members both in the operetta, "Mount Vernon," and in the annual spring concert.

Meetings are held every Tuesday and Thursday, eighth period, in the music room at Parley Coburn School, and from 4:00 to 4:30 in room 101 at the Southside High School.

CRAFTSMAN'S GUILD

The Craftsman's Guild is composed of boys only. Under the capable advisership of Mr. Lantz, the club works out its purposes: a desire to gain a closer contact with industry, to encourage a greater pride in the quality of hand workmanship, to preserve the best traditions of the guild system of the middle ages, and to promote a social and fraternal interest among the students of the industrial arts department of our school.

Business meetings are held the second Wednesday of each month in the Practice House. Social meetings are in charge of members of the faculty in the shops, drafting departments, and mathematics department.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

Through no fault of Coach Hirst and Co-Captains Louis Knapp and Daniel Punzo, the Elmira football team participated in a rather disastrous season. After swamping Oneonta and Eastwood, they dropped three successive games to Ithaca, Auburn and Binghamton. The weak teams of Onondaga Valley and Canton were victims of the Elmira onslaught. The season closed with a close victory over the Alumni in a benefit contest. The Blue and White backs came through despite the weak line, scoring a point every minute and a half.

Varsity Track, 1931

With scant time for practice and inexperienced candidates, Coach Hirst produced a fairly well balanced track team.

The relay team, composed of Richard Payne, Edward Peterson, William Ladd, and Louis Knapp, gained three first places in as many meets.

In Webster Haskins and Raymond Seely, Mr. George had two consistent point-getters as pole vaulter and hurdler respectively.

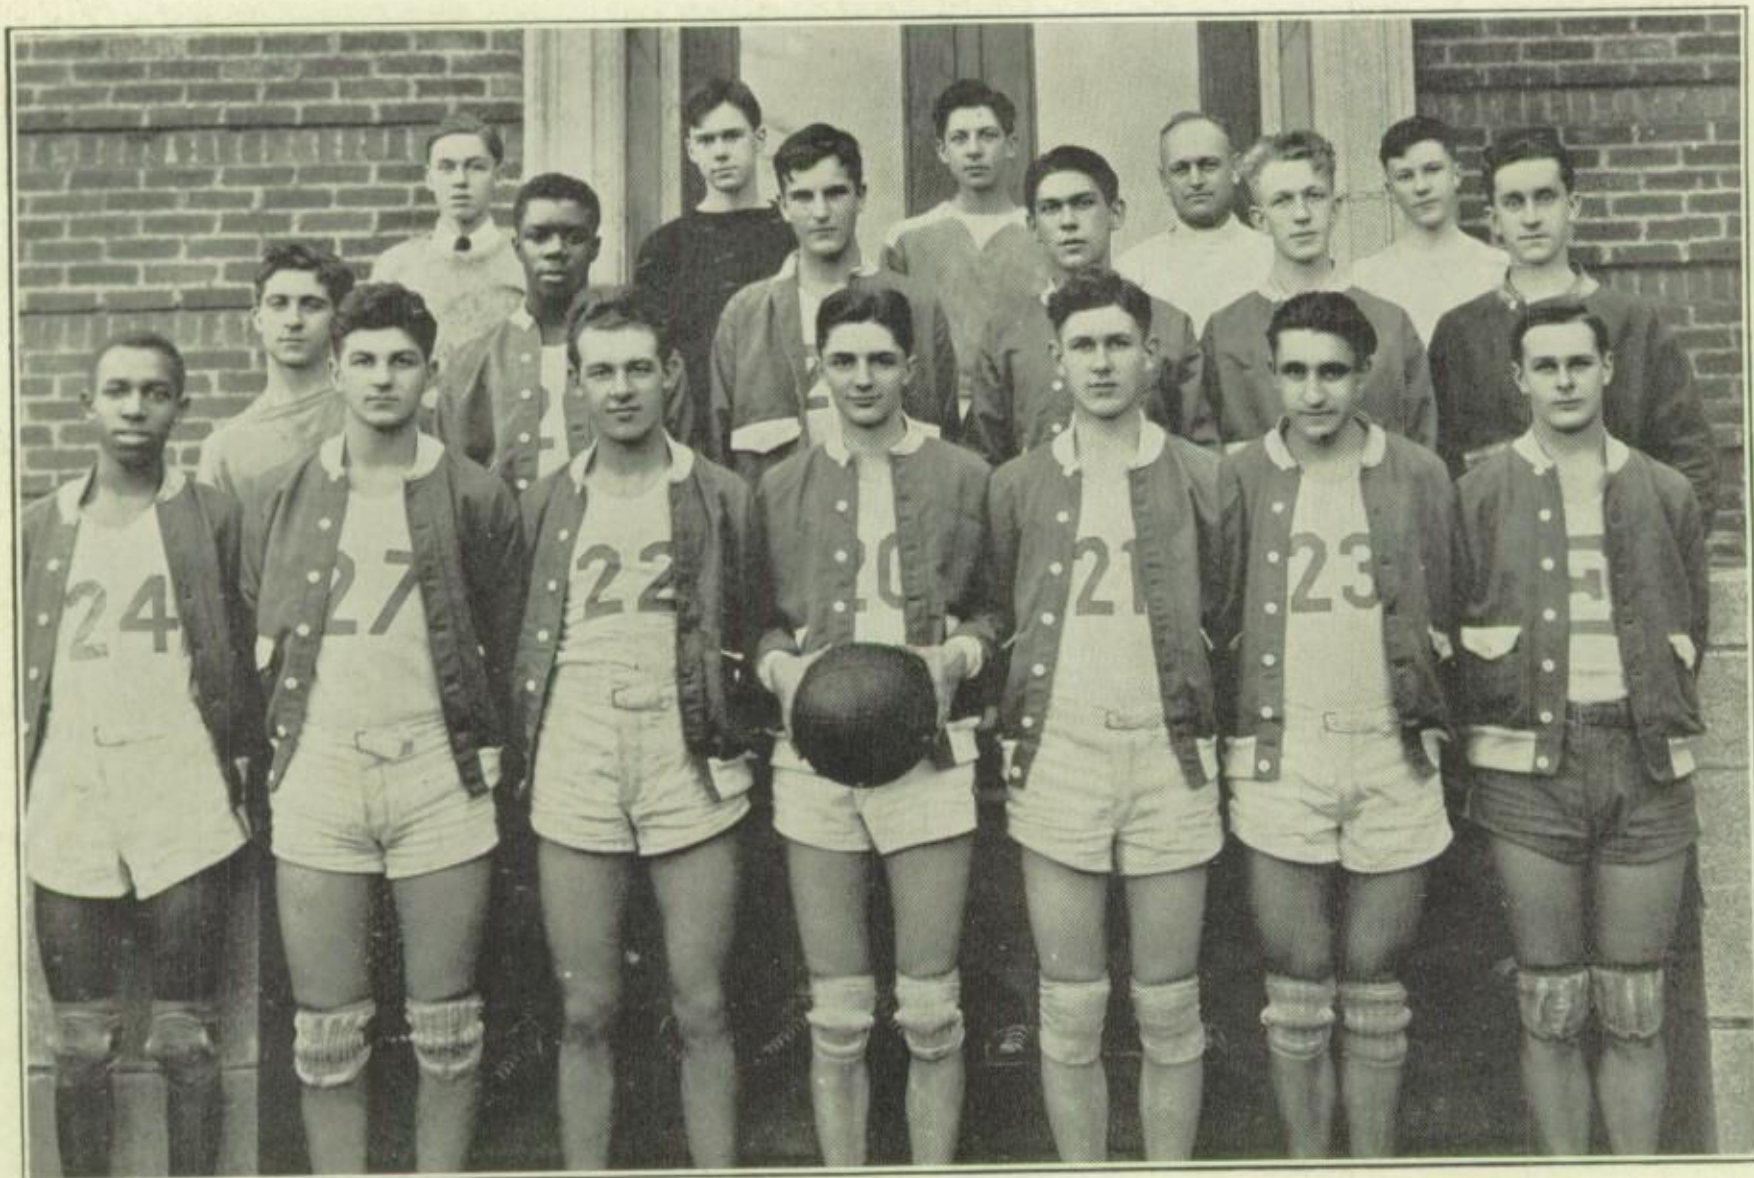

Elmira took third place in the Southern Tier meet with 29 points, and second place in the Sectionals with 22 points, but dropped the meet to Waverly 45—50.

BOYS' VARSITY BASKETBALL

Although Elmira gained only second place behind Bingo in the Southern Tier League, she had in Brusie Ogradowski and Captain Julius Vecellio, the high scorer and star guard of the league. Brusie scored 122 points, while Captain Vecellio had only 10 points scored on him. Edgar Sebring was elected captain for the 1932-1933 season.

GIRLS' VARSITY BASKETBALL

The Elmira six, coached by Miss Mary O'Dea, completed a very remarkable season, chalking up seven victories against a single defeat. Leona Paltrowitz was again honored as this year's captain. Louise Dawdy and Alice Faul acted as co-managers.

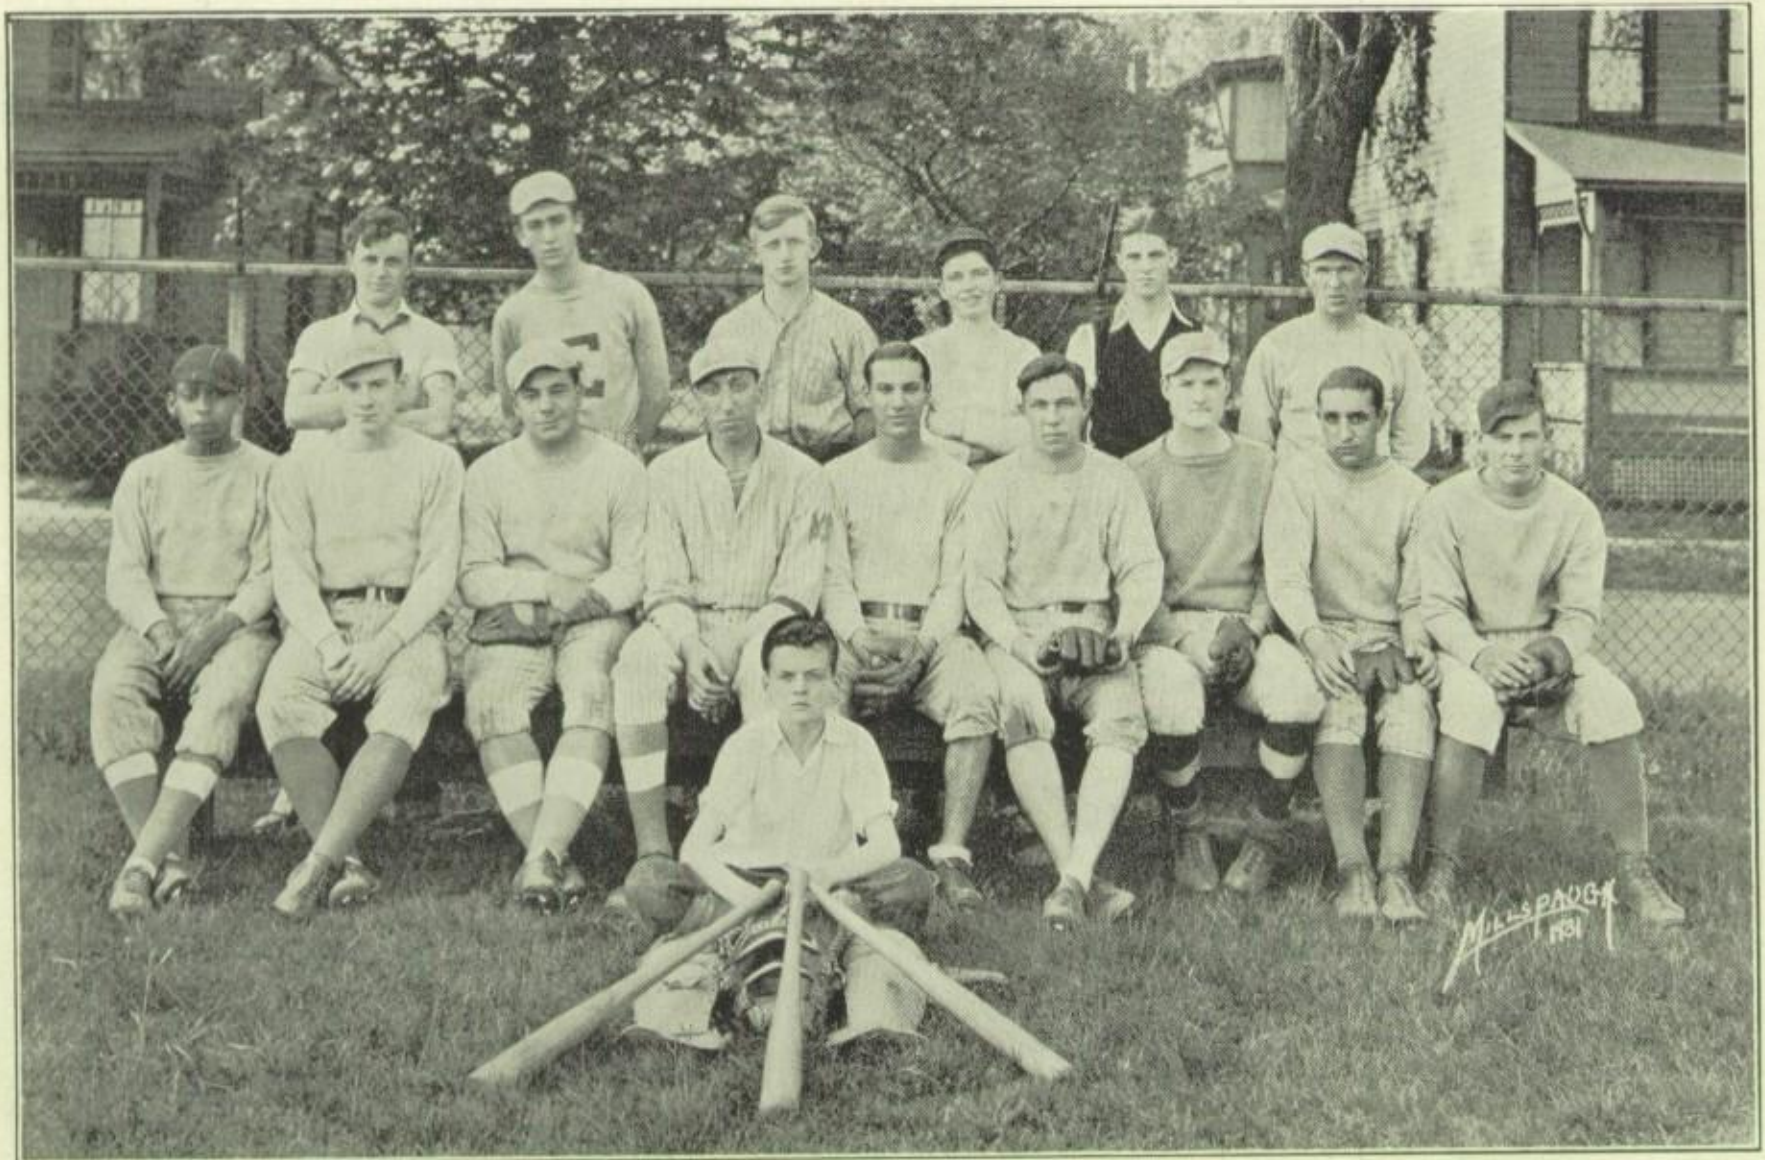

The Elmira six were successful in conquering Cook, in spite of its four-year record of no defeats. Union-Endicott, champions of the Southern Tier, was defeated in two contests by the Elmira sextette. Betty O'Connor was chosen captain for 1932-1933. Mary Bamburg was named manager.

INTERCLASS BASKETBALL, 1931-1932

In this year's Interclass Basketball, the Seniors were victorious. Many close games were played, with every game interesting to watch. A special treat was the game in which the faculty played the P. G.'s in the second round.

In the preliminary to the Oneonta game, some of the Interclass players opposed the Reserves in a game, but were defeated by a close score.

GIRLS' INTERCLASS BASKETBALL

This year some very exciting contests took place in the Girls' gymnasium on Monday and Thursday nights. The Seniors and Juniors were very evenly matched—much to the Seniors' chagrin. The Seniors won every game in the first round; the Juniors took all the contests in which they engaged during the second round. As a result, it was necessary to play a three-game series to decide the champions. The first resulted in a tie; the second was taken easily by the Juniors; the third also was a victory for them, but a hard one, for the Seniors held the lead until the last quarter. Thus the Juniors were declared honest-to-goodness champs.

INTERCLASS SOCCER

Although experiencing two defeats out of six games played, the Seniors under the captaincy of Charles Wood, climbed to first place in the Interclass Soccer League. The Seniors took all the honors of the league; namely, high scoring and most of the positions on the Interclass team. Joseph Griff led the scoring with four goals.

INTERCLASS BOXING

Stiff competition was the feature of the Interclass Boxing Tournament. A crowded house was entertained for two hours each afternoon. The boys showed their ability and training in stiff bouts.

In the eight classes the winners were:

Phantomweight—75 lbs.—Arthur Espey
Junior Flyweight—45 lbs.—Daniel McDonough
Flyweight—105 lbs.—Thomas Chimilewski
Bantonweight—125 lbs.—Robert Hurst
Featherweight—135 lbs.—William Burgey
Lightweight—145 lbs.—Anthony Cieri
Light Heavyweight—155 lbs.—Philip Sbedico
Heavyweight—Unlimited—Aaron Arnold
Coaches—Salvatore Cicconi, Garvin Hamilton

INTERCLASS WRESTLING

The wrestling tournament, coached by Charles Allen and Stephen Bartis, was combined with the boxing tournament to give the school excitement for the week of March 15 to 23. The ability of the contestants was exceeded only by their desire to give the crowd good entertainment.

The winners in the eight classes were:

Phantomweight—75 lbs.—Jack Breck
Junior Flyweight—95 lbs.—Roy McDonald
Flyweight—105 lbs.—William Ryan
Bantonweight—125 lbs.—Loring Sherman
Featherweight—135 lbs.—Jack Seibert
Lightweight—145 lbs.—William Seibert
Light Heavyweight—155 lbs.—Earl Allen
Heavyweight—Unlimited—Charles Allen

TENNIS and HANDBALL TOURNAMENTS

Two new events were added this past year for the benefit of interclass participants—handball and tennis.

The handball tournament was for doubles only. There were many hard-fought matches, with the winning team, Lozier and Moses, both of the 10th year, defeating Pearsall and Seibert of the 9th year by the close scores of 21-17, 17-21, and 21-5.

In the tennis tournament, which was capably managed by "Mike" George, many participated. The event was not completed, due to adverse weather conditions and excessive rains which left the courts in a bad condition.

INTERCLASS BASEBALL, 1931

With the entrance of a Faculty team, the Interclass Baseball League took on a new spirit. The teams showed more interest and incidentally played hard to beat the Faculty. The season ended in a triple tie for first place, the Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen holding the prominent positions. The Faculty had a tough time with the Junior High in a tie for last place.

THE TEAM STANDINGS

MEMORIES

DO YOU REMEMBER:

Billy Trader asking Dot Whipple if she had ever thought of dying?

Those days that teachers faced the prospect of no pay?

Mr. Krouse offering Lowell Moss a dime for a soda to find out what soda water was?

That unfortunate accident Miss Lucy experienced in the Faculty Assembly?

In that same assembly, Miss Haupt carrying a goose?

Our old friend, "Pete" Johnson, as Father Time in the Birthday Assembly?

Mr. McNaught stumbling through all those impossible games in calling 214 roll?

That thrilling last shot by Vecellio in that Bingo game?

How wonderful the Senior Prom was?

The triumphant entrance of Arlene Collum and Billy Trader in the Senior Play?

Louis Knapp and Dorothea Sandberg as our May King and Queen?

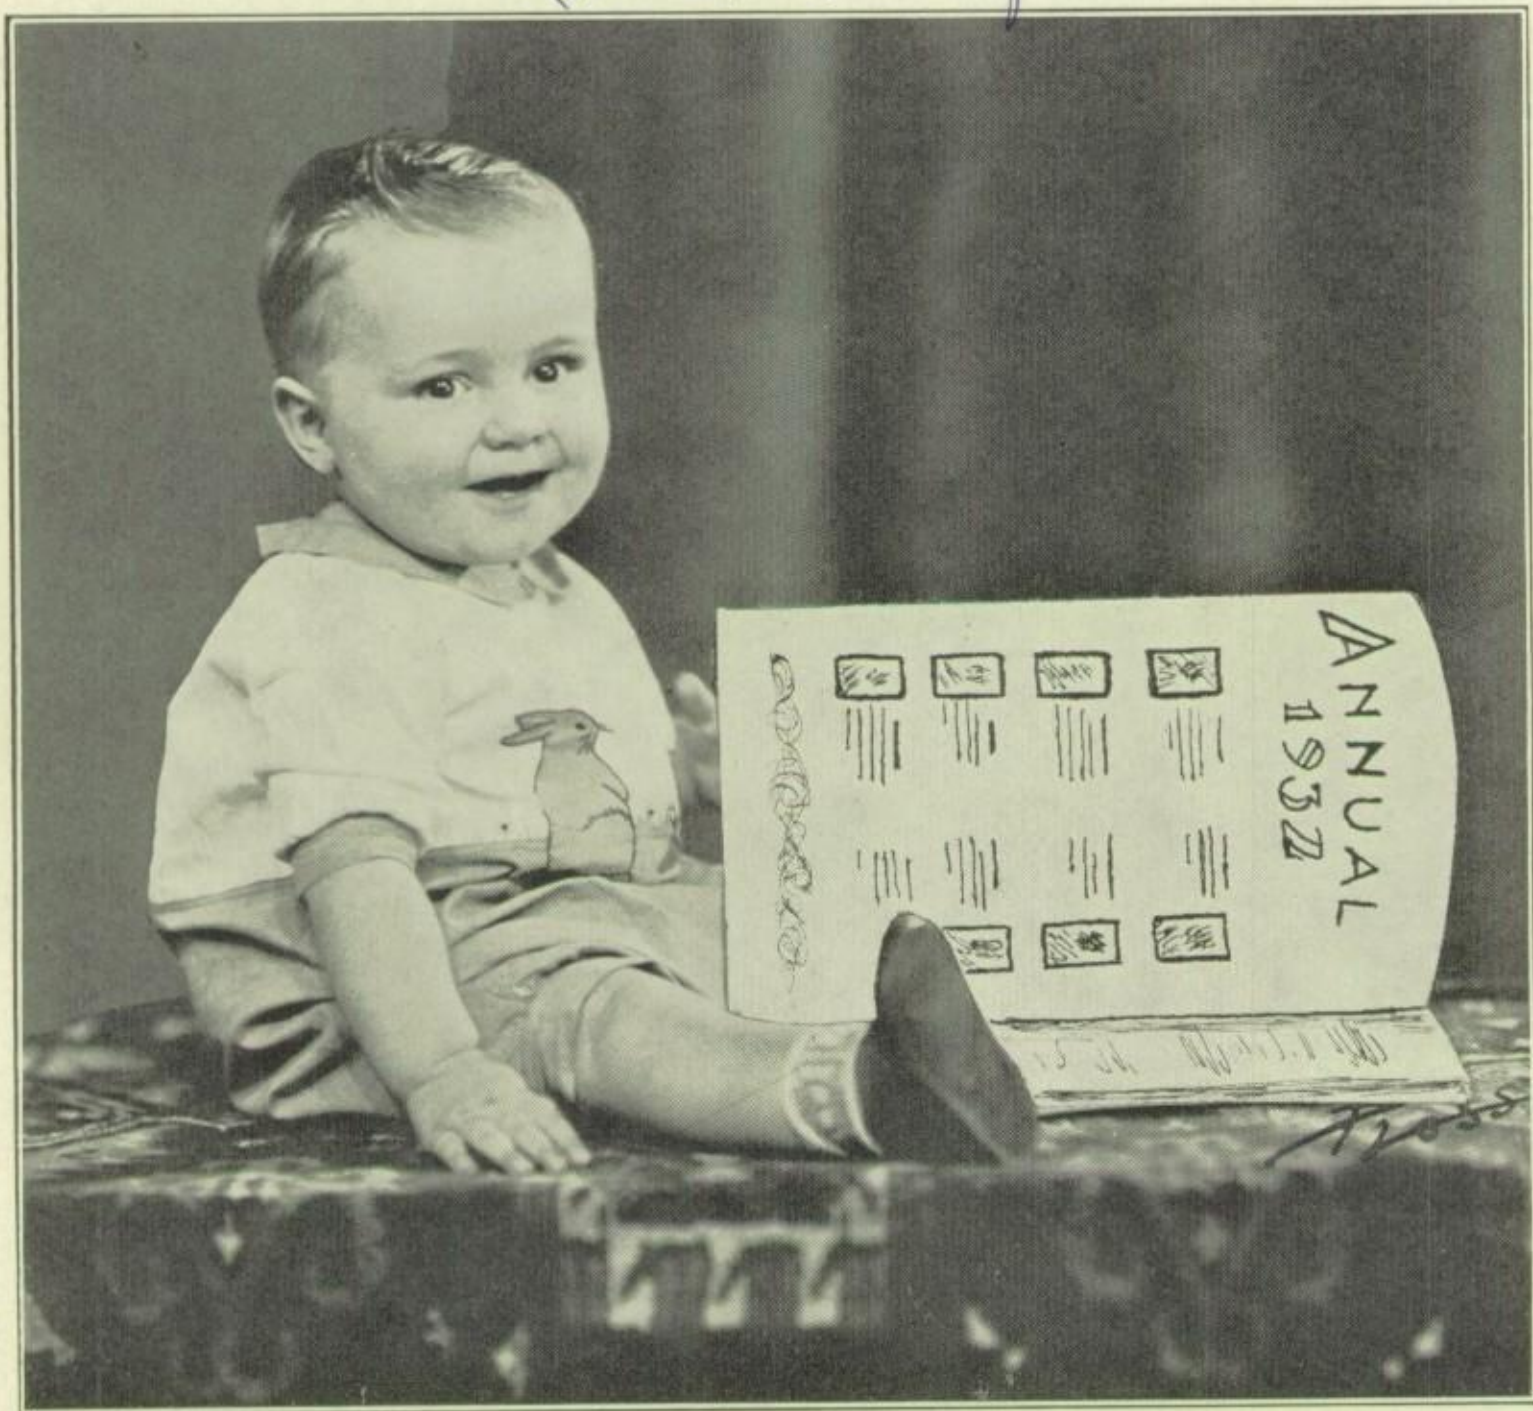

When James O'Connor captured a letter "Cousin" Mack was writing to "Dear Kay"?
